COLLIER FLEET TO BE STATIONED IN PACIFIC

The biggest colliers in the United States navy, fitted with the latest installation for the speedy handling of large quantities of fuel, will be kept in the Pacific with Honolulu, Guam and Olongapo as bases from which to operate, is the report brought to this port today with the arrival of the United States navy auxiliary Nerues.

With a displacement of 19,000 tons, much resembling the Proteus and Hector which recently passed through Honolulu to the Far East, the Nerues represents a fine type of collier. It left the yards of an east coast shipbuilding company some months ago equipped with the most modern machinery and appliances known to naval and merchant marine construction.

The Nerues steamed from Norfolk, Va., on January 15. It passed through the Panama canal on January 26.

Taking coal at Balboa the Nerues continued its journey to Olongapo by the way of the Hawaiian Islands. The steamer carries about 7000 tons of coal for the U. S. naval station in the Philippines. Captain Hutchinson reported rough weather in approaching the islands. The Nerues will be brought to the naval wharf to receive 1200 tons of bunker coal. It is the intention to dispatch the vessel for the Orient on Sunday.

England prohibited the exportation of copper.

HARBOR NOTES

The Matson-chartered steamer Francis Hanly has steamed for island ports to complete a cargo of sugar for San Francisco.

The Canadian-Australasian liner Makura is reported to have arrived at Sydney, N. S. W., on Wednesday. The vessel left Honolulu January 26.

The American bark Georgiana from Autogasta with albatrosses was ordered to quarantine for fumigation upon its arrival last evening. The vessel left the Chilean coast on December 5.

Departing from Honolulu on February 4 with a few passengers and mail estimated for the northwest, the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara is reported to have arrived at Vancouver yesterday.

The Harrison Direct line steamer Director will remain at the port for some days before discharging 3000 tons of cargo and loading a quantity of pine for the United Kingdom and the continent.

Work has been rushed to supply the Russian steamer Baron Driesen with 400 tons of bunker coal. The vessel carries cotton and general cargo from the east coast of the United States to Vladivostok and China ports.

Delayed because of rough weather, the Matson Navigation steamer Hilonian left Hilo for San Francisco on Wednesday afternoon with about 3300 tons of sugar and other lines of island products. The Hilonian was supplied with cargo at several island ports.

To load a part of 11,000 tons of sugar the American-Hawaiian freighter Virginian last night steamed for Port Allen. The vessel is scheduled to depart from Hilo for New York on February 18, proceeding to the east coast by way of the Panama canal.

Captain W. Williams, master of the schooner Melrose, an arrival yesterday afternoon from northern California, reported rough weather but no damage done to the vessel or its cargo of lumber. The vessel brought 750,000 feet of lumber. The Melrose completed the trip from Eureka in 25 days.

The Inter-Island has been advised that the British steamer Indradeo, from New York for the Far East, will arrive about February 20, for bunker coal.

According to latest advices the British steamer Bolton Castle, from New

BRING BARK TO SHORE

The American bark W. B. Flint is now anchored off Punaluu, windward Oahu. Much difficulty was met in bringing the lumber laden vessel to a safe haven.

The Flint, with a quantity of material for Libby, McNeill & Libby, pineapple canneries on the other side of the island, completed a stormy passage from Anacortes, Washington.

The vessel appeared off the island early Wednesday. Young Brothers powerful sea-going tug Kakaala was despatched to take a line from the vessel and bring it to a point where its cargo could be landed at Punaluu.
The Flint is said to have broken away and for a time it looked to the spectators gathered along the shore as if the lumber vessel would pile up on the rocks that guard the entrance to the lagoon.

Capt. Bob Purdy of the Kakaala returned to the city yesterday afternoon after having stood by the Flint for more than 12 hours. He reported the vessel safe in port. A strong gale made the berthing of the vessel a difficult matter. The Flint may take pineapples as a return cargo to the coast.

Honolulu for bunker coal about February 26.

A special representative to attend to the booking of passengers and to supply the vessel with commodities while in the islands is reported to accompany the new American steamer Great Northern, scheduled to leave the Coast for Hilo and Honolulu on February 17.

Late advices predict the arrival of the British steamer Indra from the Philippines, China and Japan about February 19. The vessel will call for bunker coal and proceed to the east coast of the United States with a cargo of copra, hemp, tea and other Oriental products.

The widow's cap is as old as the days of Julius Caesar. An edict of Tiberius commanded all widows to wear the cap under penalty of a heavy fine and imprisonment.

Much Coal Now Due.

More than 10,000 tons of coal from Australia and Japan is due at the islands before the end of the month.
The British freighter Strathendrick, which has made frequent visits here, is en route from Newcastle, N. S. W., with 5400 tons of coal consigned to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company. The vessel should arrive here about February 25.

From Niki, Japan, the Japanese freighter Yubari Maru has departed for Honolulu with about 5000 tons of fuel.
This vessel is expected to complete the trip in 20 days.

Tourists Throng Siberia.

Tourists for Hawaii are said to through the Pacific Mail liner Siberia, due from San Francisco late this afternoon. The vessel, it is reported, will bring 95 passengers, several hundred sacks of mail and 250 tons of cargo. H. Hackfeld & Co. have arranged to give the Siberia 200 tons of coal before it is despatched for Japan, China and the Philippines at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Siberia will berth at Pier 7.
